

MANUFACTURING MANAGEMENT EMPHASIS

Department of Technological Studies

The Manufacturing Management emphasis develops student leadership and management skills in a variety of manufacturing careers.

Students in the exciting Manufacturing Management emphasis area often enjoy careers in management and supervision. Positions in manufacturing historically have earned 16% more than other areas.

Many careers eventually lead to some type of management. Students may add this emphasis to supplement another emphasis area. For example, Construction Management and Manufacturing Technology students frequently obtain a Manufacturing Management emphasis since a larger part of their position is working with and around people.

Possible Careers:
Supervisor,
Plant Manager,
Shift Manager,
Manufacturing Engineer,
Quality Assurance and Safety Coordinator.
