The Art & Design program provides a unique opportunity for students to explore various studio arts and applied design studies in digital and exhibit design. The study integrates the excitement of studio arts and design experiences with the applied understanding of various technologies and practices used in professional art and design related careers. Students are involved in a full range of learning experiences from concept and design through the actual production of the finished product. The Art & Design program requires a minimum overall G.P.A. of 2.75 after completing lower level major courses for students to remain in the program and graduate with an Art & Design degree.
