

- I feel the mission statement does a good job encompassing BSU. Having discussion groups in classes really opens my eyes to new ideas. I also feel the education I'm receiving here is preparing me for my future career.
- I think this is a fun and catchy phrase. It is very encouraging and kind of makes the college sound good.
- The mission statement is something I agree with. I like the idea of responsible citizenship, especially in times like this.
- I'm getting a good education because of the small class size.
- My experiences at BSU have given me opportunity to expand my horizons and prepare me for future challenges. The opportunities involving international issues and cultures allow me to have a broader view of our changing world. By being exposed to different ways of thinking and creating, I am more able to survive all that comes my way. Diversity and creativity keep us moving forward.
- BSU prepares me well for the "real" world
- Here at BSU I do feel embraced. I also believe when graduate I will be prepared. I love it here.
- I think that the name is ok. I think that I like the lake, the learning, the life still cause it makes you think of having fun while learning. But this is a good change.
- I think engage, embrace, and educate is great. Go BSU
- I like the BSU mission statement, and think they do a good job performing it.
- Here at BSU I have had a lot of fun and have been challenged in my classes. It has encouraged me to think outside of the box and kept me open to new ideas.

- I think this university has completed all three of these very well
- Yes it does
- Seems to describe what BSU is trying to teach better. Will miss the lake, the learning, the life but this is very good
- Si, tode es bueno
- I like last year's statement better: the lake, the learning, the life. I do feel that I am well prepared for my career.
- I feel that BSU is a one big institute that not only tries to shape the beauty and strength of our mind but also gives us the tranquility and freedom to exercise our virtue to other people in the world
- It's crazy awesome
- May work for some, has not been my experience
- I like the quote but I don't think the university should spend all this money on light up pens when it could go to a more useful item= tuition!
- I feel that my time at BSU has helped me learn more about myself and the world around me. Have enjoyed the challenge and experience.

- I feel that the system is flawed in that we are forced to prepare for re-accreditation 2 years in advanced. If BSU deserves it we should not be forced to waste students' and professors' valuable time proving ourselves. The resources of time should be spent learning and teaching in the classroom.
- I think BSU does a wonderful in offering its students a broad range of opportunities through education and student engagement. Encouraging students to participate in school and community activities help students to learn responsibility and citizenship through strong education and community cooperation.
- BSU is a great place for education, meeting new people, and having new opportunities. I like this statement for BSU. BSU accomplished its mission and probably even more than that.
- Keep up the good work in having diversity on campus. Would look forward meeting more international students.
- Here at BSU I feel like I have been engaged on campus and in the community, embraced b the faculty and staff and educated for my future.

- Yes it does
- Embracing responsible citizenship. Besides going trayless, there are plenty more things we could do. Let's have an open discussion.
- I heartily agree. Good job guys
- His statement says good things about BSU
- You need to put something about blazing new frontiers, challenging the norm, broadening the curriculum, and etc. it's a good basic premise though.
- I think he sounds really great. Everyone should be.
- I think we are doing good.
- My major is social work and I feel like I am going to be well prepared for my future career.
- It says what most students are concerned about it they've come this far.
- This simply comes down to marketing. It's just a thing that will continue to change with the times rather than helping to keep BSU unique from other colleges. Makes me a little irritated that BSU would join the game this way.
- The social work program is a wonderful program to be in and is full of great professors.
- BSU needs to treat vets with more respect
- I do believe BSU is doing a fantastic job trying to live new statement to attend the university. The future is bright with the event center. Keep up the good work.

- BSU is cool, except for the fact there are no left-handed desks, come on!
- I like the lake, the learning, the life better. It fits Bemidji. BSU is right next to the lake.
- Love it, the people, professor and staff are so friendly. It just makes my day.
- I think "embrace" is a bit creepy but the pine cone works.

- I do think that BSU is educating for the future. BSU doesn't seem to be engaging in new worlds of thoughts. I support responsible citizens are embraced.
- BSU is great and the clubs and organizations are the ones that truly make college worthwhile. GREEK RULES
- BSU is my stepping stone to my future
- I believe education for the future is excellent. BSU is the place to be.
- It sounds great and it's a good goal but it needs to be executed, not just talked about. Certain departments have declined and need revamping in both teachers and staff and material being taught. Neither are adequate.
- Fantastico~
- Loving it. Made so many new and great friends. I have gotten involved with a few things like intervarsity, ice fishing, and hockey. Most of the professors are cool for the most part and I love being up north.
- At BSU I feel connected to my teachers and the students. I learn what I need to know because of the size of the school.
- It's a lot of fun here at BSU. The atmosphere is good and the teachers try to get to know you on a personal level. Plus it's not big.
- I think educating for the future is always a good idea.
- I like it, but it feels like it needs an explanation The lake, the learning, the life was very straight forward and no extra phrases to follow it up. But like I said, the new slogan s good.
- I love BSU. But I like the old mission statement better. The lake, the learning, the life! So much better.
