NOTE: New entering freshmen starting either fall or spring semester with less than 18 semester credits must maintain a meal plan for the academic year.

- Students have until the end of the day on August 24, 2009 (fall semester) and January 11, 2010 (spring semester) to make changes and not be charged for a full week. After Monday, weekly charges begin accruing. All changes or cancellations must be completed by the end of the day Friday, the third week of the semester (September 11, 2009 for fall, January 29, 2010 for spring).
- Changing from the "Any 200 meals" or the "Any 100 meals" plan to a "Beaver Buck" plan will result in a weekly charge for each week on the "Any" plan (including the week the change is made), regardless if the student eats any meals or not. This weekly charge, along with any Beaver Bucks spent on the "any" plan will be deducted from the new Beaver Buck plan.
- Changing from a Beaver Buck Plan to the "Any 200 meals" or "Any 100 meals" plan; the amount spent on a Beaver Buck plan will be deducted from the Beaver Bucks of the new plan.
- Canceling the "Any 200" or "Any 100" plan will result in weekly charges as stated above in the "Changing from the Any 200 or Any 100 plan".
- A meal plan may be added, or additional Beaver Bucks purchased anytime during the semester.
- A maximum of $200 in Beaver Bucks may be carried over from the end of fall semester to the spring semester (meals do not transfer). No Beaver Bucks (or meals) transfer after spring semester.
- Costs per meal by plan:
