At Bemidji State, full-time students pay the same tuition rate for anywhere from 12 to 18 credits per semester.

The University

• Has five residence halls to choose from, Birch, Linden, Oak, Pine and Tamarack.
• Has two main dining facilities, a coffee shop and several restaurants.
• The Gillett Recreation-Fitness Center features an indoor pool, track, basketball and racquetball courts, exercise equipment and fitness classes.
• BSU is committed to the environment in many ways, including reducing its carbon footprint and being a leader in environmental stewardship.
• Has a complete campus complex of underground walkways to shield students from the winter cold.

Open Borders Learning Community

Open Borders is a cultural sharing program in BSU’s residence halls where international students and American students who share an interest in getting to know people of different cultures room together and participate in various fun activities.

Bemidji State is a top-tier Midwest university by U.S. News and World Report.
