Curriculum Modification Summary

College: Arts, Education and Humanities
Department: English
Proposer: Lauren Cobb
Proposer’s position: Department Chair

Describe the modification(s) you propose, and how it (/they) will work to students' advantage. (This description and explanation will be included in Curriculum Report packets forwarded to the Faculty Senate.):

The Department of English proposes 5 modifications to its undergraduate degree majors and minors, and to its English M.A. and English M.S. degrees.

The proposed modifications address issues arising from or overlooked during our program-wide curriculum modification proposal, which was approved in Spring 2018.

In the English B.A. Major undergraduate catalogue, I Required Courses, the department proposes changing ENGL 4420 Shakespeare and His Age (3 credits) to ENGL 4420 Shakespeare and His Age (3 credits) or ENG: 4429 Shakespeare for Teachers (3 credits). Allowing students to make this substitution has been our practice because one or the other but not both courses are offered every year, and English B.A. students may need to take Shakespeare for Teachers rather than Shakespeare and His Age in order to achieve a timely graduation.

At the suggestion of last year’s Curriculum Committee, the department proposes changing the course number for ENGL 2375 World Literature from 1600 to ENGL 2377 World Literature. The ENGL 2375 course number indicates that this is the second course in a recommended sequence. The proposed change to ENGL 2377 indicates a stand-alone course. This class is one of 6 literature survey courses; English B.A. majors must take 5 of the 6, English Education majors and English Minors must take 4 of the 6, Creative and Professional Writing B.F.A. majors must take 3 of the 6, the Elementary Education B.S. (Teaching Licensure) majors must take 2 of the 6. Because students may take these courses out of sequence or take only one course in each of the 3 categories— American, British and world literature—we propose changing the course number to reflect this.
In the English Graduate Catalogue Course Listings, the English department proposes dropping ENGL 5862 Internship In Literary Publishing II (3 credits) because it was replaced in Fall 2018 with ENGL 5860 Internship In Writing, Editing or Publishing (3 credits) in order to reduce the number of internship courses from 8 individual courses to 1 course and to streamline our curriculum and make it less confusing for students. We simply overlooked ENGL 5862 Internship in Literary Publishing when purging the English Graduate Catalogue Course Listing of most of its internship courses, and this course is no longer offered at the graduate level.

1) Reason(s) for change(s): The Department of English offers 6 literary survey courses: 2 in British literature, 2 in American literature and 2 in World Literature. Because all English majors and students earning the English minor are required to take between 2 and 5 of the six courses, depending on their program, students do not necessarily take these courses in a recommended sequence. As stated in Form 1, and at the suggestion of last year’s Curriculum Committee, we are attempting to make the literary survey course numbers consistently indicate stand alone courses.
In order to make the course numbering accurate and consistent for all 6 literary survey courses, we propose changing the course numbers of the American literature survey courses so that both indicate stand alone courses while sharing the first three identifying digits in their course numbers. However, because we cannot repeat course numbers that we have already used, and because the course numbers 2356, 57, and 58 have already been used, we propose changing the course numbers of both of the American literature survey courses. In this instance, we propose changing ENGL 2350 American Literature to 1865 to ENGL 2330 American Literature to 1865.

Hi Daniel,
The English department has realized that we need to change the course numbers on the two American literature survey courses. As with the world survey courses, this requires no action from other departments. We propose changing ENGL 2350 American literature to 1865 to ENGL 2330, and ENGL 2355 American literature from 1865 to Present to ENGL 2337.
As with the World literature courses, we are changing the numbers to indicate that students don't need to take courses sequentially.

Please sent me any comments or concerns at your earliest convenience. Thank you!

Hi Janine,

I hope this finds you well. I'm writing to notify you that the English department proposes changing the course number for ENGL 2375 World Literature from 1600 to 2377. We are making this change to indicate that this is a stand alone rather than a sequenced course, and align it with our un-sequenced American and British literature survey courses.

This course is among those listed in the Communication Arts and Literature Endorsement electives. It's also among the courses listed in I. Required Courses for Elementary Education English Education.

Could you please let me know within a week if you have questions, concerns or comments about this proposed change?

Thank you,
Lauren

John,

I spoke with the curriculum coordinator yesterday and she assured me that changing the course number will require zero action by History. The course number will automatically change throughout the course catalogue.

Best,
Lauren
Hi Lauren,

I have no problem with this change as long as the course remains a history elective. Brendan, do we need to complete a curriculum change form to ensure this happens?

Subject: Proposed Course Change

Hi Daniel and the Historians,

The English department is proposing to change the course number for ENGL 2375 World Literature from 1600 to ENG 2377 to indicate that is a stand-alone course rather than part of a sequence. This course appears among the electives for our History B.S. and B.A. degrees. Therefore I'm asking you to let me know by Tuesday Nov. 13 if you have any questions, comments or concerns about this proposed course change.

Thank you,

Lauren

BSU Curriculum Forms

Form 5

Program Modification Form

Program to be modified: English B.A. major

List all proposed change(s):
1. The department proposes changing the course number for ENGL 2375 World Literature from 1600 to Present to ENGL 2377 World Literature from 1600 to Present.
2. In the English B.A. major undergraduate catalogue I Required Courses, the department proposes changing ENGL 4420 Shakespeare and His Age (3 credits) to ENGL 4420 Shakespeare and His Age (3 credits) or ENG: 4429 Shakespeare for Teachers (3 credits).

Reason(s) for the change(s):
1. The proposed change to ENGL 2377 indicates a stand-alone course. This class is one of 6 literature survey courses; English B.A. majors must take 5 of the 6, English Education majors must take 4 of the 6, Creative and Professional Writing B.F.A. majors must take 3 of the 6, and the Elementary Education B.S. majors with the CALE must take 2 of the 6. Because students may take these courses out of sequence or take only one course in each of the 3 categories—American, British and world literature—we propose changing the course number to reflect this.
2. We accept both ENGL 4420 and ENGL 4429 to fulfill the English B.A. I. Required Course Shakespeare requirement because one or the other but not both courses are offered every year, so students may need to take Shakespeare for Teachers rather than Shakespeare and His Age in order to achieve a timely graduation. Currently English B.A. majors must submit a transfer/substitution course form to replace ENGL 4420 with ENGL 4429. This modification will render that form unnecessary.

Note: In order to avoid hidden prerequisites, if a course is being dropped from this program (but not from the entire curriculum), please check for which remaining courses may include this dropped course as a prerequisite. Course prerequisites may be found in the online catalog (http://www.bemidjistate.edu/academics/catalog/). Remedies for hidden prerequisites may be found under Curriculum Forms at (http://www.bemidjistate.edu/faculty_staff/faculty_association/forms/).

Note: If a course from another department/program was either added to or dropped from this program, please notify the chair/coordinator of that course's department/program and indicate the following: The course’s home department/program was notified of the addition or dropping of their course(s) on _________ (date) by __________________ (mail, email, or phone).
Please check one of the items below:

_____ No comments were received from other programs or departments within one week of the notification.

_____ Comments were received within one week of the notification, and are attached.

Note: If this is a joint program, the signatures of both department chairs (and both deans, if different colleges) must be provided.

Alert: Attach a copy of the current program showing the marked changes. Please copy the current program from the online catalog (http://www.bemidjistate.edu/academics/catalog/) and paste it into Word. Then use either the Track Changes feature under Tools, or the underline and strikethrough Font feature under Format.
