Bemidji State University’s Core Curriculum promotes academic resilience by providing the skills necessary for students to succeed in their undergraduate areas of study, build connections across disciplines, and adapt to a rapidly changing job market and world.