Winter is a great season to be active and enjoy the outdoors! We encourage you to get out the door and try a new winter sport. Drag an ice fishing set up to your favorite spot, take a friend cross country skiing at one of our local trails. Sample a day of downhill skiing or snowboarding at Buena Vista, or check out the fast growing sport of winter fat bike cycling!

Get off the couch this winter!

Weekend and Break Trips with the Outdoor Program Center

Our trips are designed to get you out into wild places, learn skills and form friendships. They are always planned with the beginners in mind, so you don’t need to be a hardcore athlete or have special equipment to participate. The public is welcome to sign up for all our programs, so we often have an interesting blend of all ages and life experiences on our trips.

The cost of renting tents, sleeping bags, rain gear, etc. is included in the price, and all group gear is arranged by the trip leaders, making our trips an amazing value. The trips are led by trained OPC student staff who put safety and group communication first so you won’t feel out of place or in over your head.
